Welcome back to Church

Sunday, September 27th at 10:00 a.m. we will return to in-person worship in our Wesley Hall. We are excited to see all of you again. Things will not quite be the same as what you remember. However, you will experience music, preaching, teaching, and fellowship. That is exactly what you remember from our regular worship experience.

We will do our best to provide you with a safe atmosphere for your worship. We will also seek to provide you with a meaningful experience as we gather for the first time in many months. We will offer masks, hand sanitizer stations, and plenty of social distance. We have set Wesley Hall up to seat all of you and your guests at round tables with four chairs each. Our tables are all safely separated from each other. You can be assured that Wesley Hall will be as safe as possible for you.

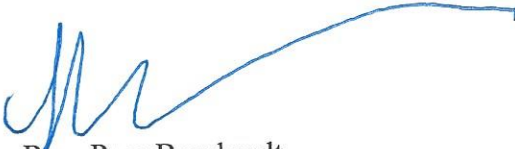

We will also continue to offer our worship on the radio, YouTube, and Facebook. If you're not comfortable returning to in-person worship, please continue to listen and watch. Let us know through texting, calling, or emailing that you are listening or watching.

We know that you have become accustomed to having coffee with your radio or virtual worship. We will not let you down, there will be coffee for everyone. We only ask that you do not wear your pajamas. We are looking forward to seeing you on Sunday.

Sincerely,

Rev. Bill Curtin

Rev. Pam Barnhardt
